Media release

7 March 2008

Subject: Missing Person Investigation – Nicholas Garza

The investigation into the disappearance of Nicholas Garza continued today. There were no significant developments in the case.

Ground conditions continue to improve, however the impending storm and cold weather predicted for the weekend have caused the cancellation of planned ground search activities for Sunday. Conditions will be reassessed on Sunday. Ground search operations remain suspended.

Unless there are significant developments in this case over the weekend, the next scheduled media release will be Monday, March 10, 2008.
